Enjoy an eggs-traordinary Easter with Waitrose & Partners

The art of illusion is the theme from Waitrose & Partners in this year's Easter selection.

From chocolate hen's eggs that might at first have you reaching for a frying pan, to a spring lemon almost indistinguishable from the fruit itself, the range is full of surprises.

The Eggstraordinary Chocolate Hen's Eggs are the brainchild of the master of culinary illusion, Heston Blumenthal. While appearing astonishingly realistic to the eye, the eggs have been conjured from white chocolate, a two-tone soft and sticky banoffee centre, with layers of fresh ganache flavoured with both banana puree and dark chocolate caramel.

While the Spring Lemon is a truly unique Easter treat. Complete with a leaf as if it's just been plucked from the tree, it looks ready to be sliced and squeezed. Zesty lemon fuses with smooth and creamy white chocolate for a tantalisingly sweet, yet citrusy flavour.

The Heston from Waitrose range also includes a grown-up upgrade to the traditional Easter Egg hunt with the Eggstraordinary Speckled Eggs back by popular demand. These exquisite blue speckled mini eggs will delight chocoholics with their delicious fleur-de-sel caramel filling.

As Kate Kind, Confectionery Product Developer for Waitrose & Partners explains: "This Easter we're offering shoppers our most playful and colourful creations to date. In this year's collection, we've focused on the art of illusion – a play on the unexpected and the trend for fruity confectionery. We hope that shoppers will have as much fun tasting these treats as we had creating them."

Other Easter extravaganzas include the stunning hand decorated Squiggle Eggs available in three delectable flavours; Dark Chocolate and Orange, Milk Chocolate with Salted Caramel and White Chocolate with Raspberry. Or why not take a walk on the wild side with the cutest Chocolate Animals including a White Chocolate Elephant and Milk Chocolate Lion.
